

I am horrified and enraged with the FCC's decision to increase the level of media ownership from 35% of the viewing audience to 45%. I feel that the FCC snubbed the public (which you are supposed to be serving.) One thing is clear to me, and that is that an effort was made to keep the public in the dark and to prevent public debate.